

Everything Will Turn to Gold

By Cindy Peters

Those golden years will we be bold as our youth was stold and everything turn to gold
Or will those years be filled with tears and fears.
Will your thoughts be golden or will your mind turn out to be molden.
Will you dare to dream and your thoughts be one flowing stream.
Will you transition to those years with ease or will it be one big tease.
Will you accomplish a lot or will it feel like a hopeless plot.
Will you feel love from those above.
Will you dare to have good care and will family be there.
Will things as they should and life turn out to be good.
Will you say I did what I could to make sure things would be good.
I was told all these things will turn to gold.
If we have a date or mate are all up to fate.
Let's flip a coin to tell and hope all things will turn out well.
Oh, those Golden Years as we try to chase away all those tears and fears.
We will spread our wings and gamble with those things.
Yes, we will be bold and everything will turn to gold.
