

Look Away

By Donna Bishop

If I look away from your eyes
I can't see you looking at me
Safe in my shell I will always be Protected by my self-inflicted lies.

Will I outgrow this shell of protection?
Hopefully with confidence in time
Your eyes will be allowed to meet mine
Not looking away I'll see the beauty of my reflection.