

In Silence

By Donna Bishop

Hear me now in the silence of your Soul.

The Divine knows your potential beyond your imagination.

The Divine knows you only as perfect and whole.

The Divine Presence is in this dimension and in all dimensions without end.

The Divine is the Source of all that has been, is now and ever will be.

The Divine power is beyond your current capacity to comprehend.

Divinity creates worlds upon worlds while you occupy this earthly place.

The Divine is unlimited love while you still think love can be conditional.

Trust me now all your prayers are answered in the silence outside of time and space.
