

Dreamtime in Haiku

By Hap Hansen

Deny naysayers.
Fly through windows of your dream.
Embrace the unknown.

Floating above clouds,
The world is your creation.
If only you dream.

Dark sky and grey storms
May blur your vision of self,
Temporarily.

The sun will soon shine.
The rain has freshened the earth.
Your life force is whole.

Listen to the rush.
Wings of possibility,
Will celebrate dreams.

Your pure dreaming means,
Footprints in mankind's forest,
Will last forever.
