

2016 Bucket List

*01-11-2016 by Harry Zirkelbach
Stars and Sun date 33299*

When this topic was suggested everyone put on their imaginary thinking cap and explored. Fortunately, I feel sleep once I closed the eyes, allowing a casual walk through the whole year in advance. Some of the events, too vulgar to mention.

Worth mentioning ...

In 2016, all female residents will contest for a seat on the Windsor Board.

The 80 acre, $10.00 Potter's Field north on E Alameda will break ground.
The nude statue at our entrance will turn their back, begin picketing.

Eighteen single ladies here will wed; they can't see to drive. Eighteen men here will wed to improve their sex life. Probably a different eighteen.

A Writers Group Monday hour long reading will end with no one mentioning their name; no one will care.

Half way through the year, all will write on Potpourri, think they are original.

The 34 Geese living here year round will move to the Breakes water is cleaner more plentiful; fewer duff golfers. Our Residents will ask,
"Why do their droppings continue".

No Windsor Garden resident will die in months beginning with the letters
B, C E, G, H, I, K L P, Q R, T, U, V, W, X, Y, Z.

All will be stunned, and the Denver Post will carry that feature story, the month
the new resident Male population exceeds the female influx.

The Committee reviewing the Underground Parking Garage will meet again next year.

Denver Water will flood the Highline Canal; Jimmy Hoffa's body will be found.

Every building here will have a Building Rep, attend all meetings.

Fifty residents will lose their Landry Cards. Thieves are suspected.

Suspects are asked to check in with Community Response.

The Will of a resident will leave a large sum to Windsor Gardens;
senility is suspected. A Court date has been arranged.

RTD will consider building a Light Rail Line inside Windsor Gardens to allow everyone to see the Christmas Lighting. Parking on the street will be prohibited, but licenses for refreshment stands will be sold.

The discount for Seniors at the Dispensary will be discontinued.
Get your stash early.

The ugly dog contest has been cancelled. Lots of rumors why.

The Answering System to one building was removed.
Residents couldn't recall which button to push to allow entry.

The new Fire House on Alameda celebrated their 100th call from our residents.
Those fireman claim to know more residents by name than they have relatives.

And don't forget; order something to eat at our Burger King get a free cup of coffee.
Tell them Dennis sent you.