On the occasion of the wedding of Amanda Nichols and Zac Podmore in Bluff Utah this date
I was asked to prepare a salutation. Was not invited to deliver it.

Today

No matter which direction you travelled to get here, you are in the West.

A land of legend.

Occupied by Originals for a thousand generations before whites "discovered" these shores.

Today

We are gathered to witness and approve this marriage of Zac Podmore and Amanda "Penny" Nichols who have made this west their home.

They have been telling us of their adventure here in writings, photos, and Jewelry, insisting this West is worth Preserving for Generations to come.

We thank them today for their Wedding and Vocations., wish them success in reminding all to the task begun, to continue telling the World about this spectacular West, they share with us this day.
