

A Hymn, A Poem, Together with All Mankind

By Jackie Blount

Amazing Grace and Auld Lang Syne
Times gone by with all mankind
Kept promises or broken
Found friends or lost
Cut family ties
Or
Walk away from the scissors
Living by truth or by lies
When lies are truth and truth is a lie
Cry out
Hoshiana (Hebrew: "Save, please.")
Celebration, Yeshua HaMashiach (Hebrew: "Jesus Christ")
His amazing grace to all mankind
As we lift a lighted candle, likened as a toast unto our creator, Yah Hay Vah Hay
Then at the stroke of midnight we sing Auld Lang Syne
Standing swaying side to side
We cross our arms and connect our hands
With all mankind
A sense of peace enters our soul as we lock into this space in time
The song comes to an end
The music fades over the waters
The conductor takes a bow
A New Year of differences
Until we meet again
Next year, when
Amazing Grace and Auld Lang Syne come together again with all mankind.
