

What My "Thank You" to You Means

Jeanne Lee

Time you spent helping, caring for and nurturing others.

Hugs of love, support and condolence given.

Admonishment when you knew what I was about to do would not be a good choice.

Never saying "I told you so!"

Knowing I could depend on you and your support every time.

Yesterday's memories of laughter and tears and crazy and serious times shared.

Open mind, arms and heart for others.

Understanding we share a love of God and the blessings He provides.
