

Pyromania in California

by Liz Gibbons

A group of firefighters from Colorado arrived in California a week ago to assist the weary firefighters. They were not prepared for the severity, intensity and aggressiveness of the forest fires there. California has always had a wildfire season related to the Santa Anna winds. But until the last few years there have not been whole subdivisions that completely burn, and this year the whole town of Paradise went up in flames. 27, 000 people lived there. What is going on? And it is not just in California. There are catastrophic fires all over the world.

There is evidence of weather warfare against innocent populations. Dane Wittington has been educating people for many years about geoengineering . It is being used to manipulate the weather. He gives weekly updates on his website www.geoengineeringwatch.org. The New World Order globalist cabal has created a worldwide cadre of geoengineers who can create any weather pattern they desire. They can amp up a storm to cataclysmic magnitudes and aim for any spot on the globe. They play with earthquakes, volcanoes, tornadoes, hurricanes, mudslides; sink holes, drought, and wildfires. This year they are using wildfires. You could call it the year of the Pyromaniac. But it is not a person out in the woods with matches. It is much more sinister.

In addition to geoengineering there are several other factors contributing to the intensity of these fires? For years our skies have been seeded with aluminum particles and other chemicals and toxins through a continuous program of chem trails. We are told this is being done to create an atmospheric shield to counter global warming. The particles in the chem trails fall to earth and the vegetation becomes coated with them. They get into the water supply, and the plant roots draw them up into the plant. They have a drying effect. Aluminum is very combustible. Additionally, microwave towers can be used to make the atmosphere more combustible.

Another aspect is Smart Meters which can be weaponized. When you see pictures of a whole subdivision burned to the ground, it has been vaporized. It has been destroyed by a DEW (directed energy weapon) and not by a wildfire. A fire can be triggered through the home's Smart Meter by overhead drone acting like a flame thrower, by laser-firing satellites or weaponized aircraft under cover of darkness. Your house could be blown up, but it would be blamed on a gas explosion.

What is behind this terrorist warfare? It is a many layered situation. Some think it is part of the UN Agenda 21 and 2030 programs to move people off the land into cities so they can be better controlled. The globalists are seeking a One World Government where every square inch of planet earth is controlled, including the weather and all human activity.

Dane Wittington says geoengineering is possibly one of the greatest threats to life on earth. It is at the core of the cataclysms in the west and many other places in the world. It can control any country or group of people who do not follow the dictates of the current power structure. It can topple a nation without it even knowing it was at war. Not a shot needs to be fired. It wreaks havoc on nature's life support systems. The globalists are waging weather warfare against the American population. It is hidden, and most people have no clue it is being carried out. It is incumbent that people wake up and that this insanity is stopped.
