

Enough is Enough

By Mike Harris

As I have gotten older my patience has gotten shorter. Inept employees of firms who are soliciting my business would do well to invest several hours in training their help to politely proceed with clear enunciation and a slower cadence of speech.

To start with they are intruding on my time, making a pitch for something I probably do not need or want.

Recently we investigated a walk-in shower and tub. After getting some prices which were quite shocking and consulting with Kaiser, the expected benefits were so miniscule, it just did not make sense, but the phone rang for weeks before they finally got the message, no sale!

Closing in the lanai is not that expensive, but the result of excluding oneself from the opportunity to meet and expand one's acquaintances again just does not make good sense.

Isolationism is debilitating. Communities such as Windsor Gardens tend to keep residents involved and with expanding horizons. The very mix of residents makes for a huge cross section of heartland America. East to west, ocean to ocean we have you covered; Hudson Bay to the Gulf of Mexico, you can meet them here. All wanting the same thing, "Independent Living."

Do not tell me how to prepare to meet my Maker. We all have made decisions and we do not need your help. We will welcome your company but it stops right there. Come and enjoy!
