

God Bless All Veterans!

By Natalie Lawson

It's a selfless, grave responsibility they committed themselves to, to give part of their lives for our country.

Because of our veterans we are able to live with our freedoms. We're living our lives our way.

The wars we went through put our happiness and prosperity in danger. But we continue to be strong and steadfast with our beliefs.

My family's contributions were my husband and both our sons. Also, two brothers and a niece and nephews. We're very fortunate that they are all still alive and well.

Also, when I think of veterans, it brings back memories of Beetle Bailey in the comics, romantic movies with Van Johnson or Dana Andrews, The Andrews Sisters, Lowry Air Force Base. Each of these would be stories of their own, I'm sure. Also, Norman Rockwell portraying veterans brings smiles and contented feelings.

Yes, God Bless All Veterans!
