

My Wonderful World

by Natalie Lawson

The first thing that came into my mind was my Mother and Father who gave me a life to appreciate. There are several instances that stand out. One of my favorite is when I became the eldest girl in the family when my two older sisters left home. I felt so grown up in my new lavender dress and shoes to match when I went shopping with my mother. I no longer had to wear hand-me-downs. It still makes me smile by how I felt. It was a sweet joyous moment. At that moment in time, I was living in a wonderful world.

Actually many years later I'm still living there thanks to an independent living complex like Windsor Gardens. Also, because we are a free democratic country where everyone is counted. As long as we keep working to settle problems without going to war, we will be blessed to enjoy our wonderful world.
