

Melting Ah-ha Moments

By Natalie Lawson

Spring snows are always
An ah-ha moment
It's bright out with a
Triumphant feeling
Covering the ground completely
With a warm blanket
Although the relentless
Wind whirling
Gives it the promise of Snowflakes dancing

Spring snows surprisingly
Fall without the bitter cold
Therefore it melts calmly
In the fold
We can celebrate with a
Cup of hot chocolate
Content to consume a
Palatable sweet
And comfort activity seemingly
To placate
The ah-ha moment ending with
A fetching fete!
