

Time and Money

By Suzy Hopkins

Are you living on borrowed time? Can you borrow time? Who do you borrow it from? Where do you pay it back? Can it be borrowed like money or is it just good luck?

Money and time are often compared and associated with each other. You can save time and save money. Money and time can be well spent or wasted. People say, "I have plenty of time." or "I have plenty of money." To put off doing something unwanted people might say, "I don't have the time right now." Or "I don't have the money right now." If you're late to work your minutes short will cause you to pay for it with docked pay.

Where the comparison fails is you can always obtain more money but your time has a definite limit.

Are you living on borrowed time?