

Vivacious

By Suzy Hopkins

I feel fortunate that I am the companion of a six pound bundle of joy called Popcorn. She is playful, loves hugs and is obedient to most of my commands. This is important when people come to visit me. She constantly demands to be patted or played with by the visitor. She is convinced they came to play with her. When she becomes tiresome I say, "Enough!" and she quits whatever she is doing and settles down. I'm so grateful she understands English.
