

Nobody Knows

By Suzy Hopkins

We all know a pig will dig and a cat will wear a hat.

I'll bet you didn't know elephants wear pants and that llamas wear pajamas.

We all know goats wear coats and sheep like to sleep.

It is well known that an ape will eat the landscape and an armadillo makes an awful pillow.

I know that if a horse uses force it will have remorse.

We all know that frogs like bogs but avoid meeting a shark in the dark.

I'm certain you cherish your goldfish and that geese give us no peace.

However, nobody, I mean nobody, knows where the wind goes.