

Praying

When I was a child growing up, we attended Willowick Baptist Church, in Willowick, Ohio. And church was only several miles away from our home, and our family attended regularly with Sunday school too, before the worship service. So I was in the habit of praying at home also, with grace said before the evening meals and bedtime prayers. But as the years have gone by, I find I only pray now when sudden bad things happen. So now would be a good time to pick up that old habit of praying, at least a bedtime prayer, and ask God that all will be right with our world again.
