

Cycles of Life

By Pete Clark

Seasons form a year

Seasons are the spice of life

Birth growth age and death

Spring the time of birth

Nourishing sunlight pooling rain

Eggs hatch young ones drop

Heat wind rain hail drought

Gaia's wrath is her healer

As her bounty grows

Cooling weather comes

Gaia's abundance wizens

Preparing for change

Cold winds gusting south

Ice snow frozen soil array

Death oblivion

The dearest season

For the twilight of my life

Is the here and now
